The Art of Persuasion And Relationships

My friend,

This could be one of the most important reports you are going to read. In all my years of coaching my readers and personal clients, it has dawned on me that learning all you can about human nature and human behaviour is a crucial skill for commanding success in life and in relationships.

I myself have never started out learning about the art and science of persuasion. I have never read up any books or take up any courses on this subject. In fact, it is a very much unfamiliar subject for myself. I never know what copywriting is all about; it is not a subject that I am being taught in schools.

However, over the years, to deal with the demands of effective communication with my readers and clients over the internet, I was 'forced' to learn copywriting, and indirectly, I was introduced to the world of influence and persuasion.

Many of my readers have written me to tell me how much they like my free report which I give out on my home page at RetrieveALover.com. In this report, I like to tell it like it is; and surprisingly some of my readers 'get it' the FIRST TIME they read it! Something 'in' them changes; and they instantly know what to do to bring back the love of their lives and save their relationship, that very day.

You could have read a lot of books about dating skills, seduction formulas, how to get girls guides, how to get men guides; but so far, no one has ever look at relationships and teach you everything about relationships from the point of view of understanding human nature.

My free report touches the hearts of many people because it tells you the secret of human nature just as it is. We are humans living in a human society; and interacting with humans day in and day out, doesn't it make sense that you should learn all you can about humans and human nature?

If you are facing some difficulties in your life or your interpersonal relationship, this report will help you find the solutions you need for that instant transformation.

Enjoy.

Live life to the fullest!

May the light be with you!

Why Do You Need Confirmation?

Some of my readers just cannot stop wanting a confirmation from their partners.

Their minds seem to work in this way: that if their partners cannot give them an answer which they deem satisfactory and make them feel secure, they will not stop torturing themselves daily by constantly asking themselves questions why things are not working out the way they should be.

They want their lovers to give them that nod.

They want their partners to tell them they love them, and 'confirm' it, in some ways, with some sort of actions.

And even if their spouses have given them that kind of 'confirmation', they are still not satisfied.

Do you fall into this category of people?

Let me tell you something, perhaps you do not really want that kind of 'confirmation'. Why do you want to keep torturing yourself day in and day out looking for that 'confirmation' from another human being?

It doesn't work that way. You are only going to push that person further and further away.

Perhaps, you just want to be FREE from wanting that sort of 'confirmations'.

Ironically, if you can just learn to be FREE from your wanting of all sorts of 'confirmations', you will find your lover wanting to come close to you even more.

Read the above sentence again if you don't 'get it'.

Instead of feeling victorious when you feel you have control over another person's behavior, feelings, and actions, let me let you into another secret, YOU will feel MORE victorious when you ARE a FREE person!

If You Don't Change; Nothing Happens

When you want to get the man or woman of your dreams, your first objective is to get his/her attention. And how do you get someone's attention? The easiest way is just simply be yourself and be magnetic. Now, this could be difficult for some of you, who are not naturally magnetic or attractive.

And, does this present a problem? Would you be at a disadvantage as compared to those naturally magnetic beings? Of course, you would face some obstacles if you think about this. But it does not mean you would not have a chance to compete level by level with your love rivals. If you think that and you know that you need to work on improving your 'magnetic' personality, then, do something about it!

There are a lot of books and courses out there which can help you to become even more magnetic and attractive than you usually are. Dig out these books and you start right from there. The crucial point is you start to TAKE ACTION. If you take action, there will be changes, for good or for bad, there will bound to be changes and transformation.

But, if you do nothing, then nothing will happen. You cannot proceed from there. You keep doing the same things over and over, you get the same results. If you stubbornly wait for something to change; let me let you in a secret, no one will change, your situation will not change. ONLY YOU can change.

Use Common Sense

Should you leave or stay in the relationship?

Sometimes, you have to use your common sense. I have readers who have very abusive partners and they are trying so hard to find all sorts of ways to restore their relationships.

I cannot and will not make the decision for you whether you should keep an abusive partner! Come to think of it, who wants to be with a lover who beats up them up everyday? I know I won't want to be with such a person.

Only YOU yourself will know if this person is the right one for you.

If you are struggling and fighting very hard, you are simply looking for a solution for this change in your life. You want it to be easy and effortless.

Yes, if it's time for you to leave, you have to leave. Don't keep an abusive partner! There is someone better for you out there. You can attract your ultimate love, and we do teach you how to do so in our True Love On Demand!

Get CLEAR about what you want in life and in relationships. Many times, you just want to be free of wanting this person!

Major changes in life can truly be easy and effortless, we teach you this in our breakthrough RetrieveALover.com.

People Like to Talk About Things Regarding Themselves.

The magnetic people know this secret. If you want to catch the attention of someone, don't talk about yourself. Don't be too concerned about yourself. Don't brag about the improvements you have made. Don't. Talk about him with him. Talk about her with her. People are self serving. Fulfill their needs for this.

It's a cool hard fact of life. If you can fulfill their needs of self-serving, you are magnetic. You are wanted. If you sell insurance; I'm sure you know what i'm talking about here. Insurance agents are trained to fulfill your self serving needs. If you can do what a successful good insurance agent can do, you are almost there!

When you talk, you'll want to talk in an engaging way!

I want you to learn the formula that I use, and adapt it, to work for yourself, and for your own unique life or relationship circumstances. I share different Gather all these different methods, fine tune them, make them your own.

Do you have an idol in mind? I believe everyone does have an idol they like, a hero or heroine they support, they love and they believe in. Everyone loves an idol. Some of us love a famous sports idol. Some of us are 'in love' with a hollywood idol. We believe in them so much that we don't hesitate to drop everything and listen to them with our heart.

Now, how does these idols have so much power over their fans? Where do they get all these power to be able to make their fans jump, laugh, cry, sob, scream over them? It's amazing, isn't it?

Would you like to have the power that these idols have? Would you like to have the magical power whereby every time you speak, your friends or lover would drop everything and listen to you with their hearts?

You can!

Learn all you can about human nature; about persuasion and influence, about copywriting.

Observe all the people around you. Constantly ask yourself this question: What do they want?

People buy 'dreams'

We are all after a dream.

Hidden somewhere in the corners of our mind, spoken or unspoken, we all have dreams to fulfill.

Whenever we are with someone; or whenever we go out with anyone we like, we are buying 'dreams' - the dream of having a fun time together, the dream of enjoying ourselves during that point in time, the dream of bringing joy to whoever we are with during that moment.

Make sense?

Now, can you fulfill that dream of that person?

Some of my friends very often complain to me that they couldn't help having a fight or argument with their partners whenever they meet.

Do you fall into this category?

Well. Let me tell you a secret. You can stop fighting. It's not that hard at all. You just need to stand back, and observe why it happens and how it happens.

You'll notice that there IS a pattern whenever you and your lover come together. It's like being in an orchestra. When the members of the group come together, bringing their unique instruments; and when they sit down and play, they can play a beautiful music almost on autopilot.

You see; that's the way it works. They have been coming together and practicing the piece of music together for so long. They are already used to it.

In relationships, and in marriages, I have observed that this could be how it works too. We tend to behave and react in a very almost predictable way whenever we are with the same person.

So, if you are in a couples relationship whereby you will fight and argue with your partner whenever you meet, or whenever both of you are involved in an event together, such as when going out on a date together, you need to ask yourself this question, "How could I break THIS pattern? How could I 'deliberately' stop (fighting), put down my instrument and play a different music?"

Go ahead and ask yourself, you'll know the answer. You have the answer in you all along.

You have a choice. The choice is yours to make.

What Do People 'Buy'?

People buy your enthusiasm. They buy your good positive energy. Admit it. We all love it!

Get excited about life. Get enthusiastic about what you do. When you are excited about something, you would want to share it with all your closed friends. You want to spread the joy and the excitement. If you are sincere about it, people are naturally drawn to you.

So, share your own natural excitement and your own natural voice. People will 'buy' it!

Share what excited you! Ask your partner to share what excited him/her!

Curiosity Is Your Biggest Tool

People love curiosity. Create curiosity. It engages anyone's mind. Ask questions which people cannot answer, and they will not go away without finding out more from you.

Use words or contents which will plant mental images in people's mind and which will help them make a decision in a certain way, react in a particular direction or take action in a particular way. A magnetic person is one who can converse in such ways that he or she encourages you to live your dreams, or even tell you how to avoid your pain.

Creative people will not find this a difficult task – creating curiosity.

Are you a too predictable person? Do you expect yourself to behave in a certain way. Do you expect your lover to behave in a certain way, day in and day out?

If you are too predictable, you need to get creative and get excited about life. Engage in what you have been wanting to do for your life but keeps putting it off for various excuses and reasons. Get engaged and get passionate about it.

Your lover will feel it. And your partner will want to share your positive energy.

If you observe all the people around you, and starting from your own circle of friends or associates, you'll find that a lot of girls love be around 'naughty' boys.

There is some truths to this fact. You could have heard someone talk about it: that girls like to choose to be with a 'naughty' boy. But, why is this so?

The 'naughty' boys are always deemed to be fun-loving, and clearly very unpredictable in their actions, behaviours and the decisions they make. They bring excitement to the girl's life; and they cannot resist it.

If you are fun, you'll like to bring little surprises here and there into your partner's life.

A lot of people, especially women love this. It arouses their curiosity. And their minds are engaged!

Now, I'm not asking you to become 'naughty'. That's not my intention. My main purpose here is to train you to observe the people around you, and ask yourself questions why they behave in the ways they do. Why do they make decisions in the ways they do? You'll learn something out of this little exercise.

Use curiosity to engage people's mind.

People Want The BEST Deal!

What's your offer in this relationship? You got to make a deal they cannot get anywhere else!

People want peace of mind. People seek happiness. Can you provide it? Make them a deal. And prove it with your actions, not your words.

Do you fight or make things difficult whenever you meet your lover? Do your communication go downhill whenever both of you talk? You need to be the one making the deal. You don't wait for the other to make it.

People Want You To Listen With Your H-E-A-R-T

Listen to what you man want. Listen to what your woman needs. Listen, listen, listen.

For a successful and long lasting relationship, you need imagination, creativity and enthusiasm. Add these 3 to your most important relationship skills arsenal starting from today.

If you have these 3 elements in your life and in your relationship or marriage, you are the script writer for your lover's dreams. To attract a true love, or even to keep one, your job is to show him or her in minute details all the tomorrows that YOU will make possible for them!

Are there naggings, complaining and fussing in your life day to day?

Are there fighting, conflicts and arguments in your relationship life daily?

Are there unhappiness and unspoken resistance in your life or relationship whenever you two meet or talk?

You think these are what your partner is looking for, in his or her life???

Think about it.

This is the million dollar insight on how to attract and keep a healthy and harmonious relationship!

Our task is to see people as they are, not as we want or need to see them.

People are not what they seem. Accept this. Your friend or your lover is totally different from what you think they are. Unless you have some psychic powers, you do not really understand what goes on beneath that person's calm surface – at his or her psychic level.

The most common mistake most of us make is our own false assumptions.

So, what can we do?

You first learn to honestly face your OWN motives. You seek to understand your-self FIRST.

By frankly facing your own motives, you see the motives of others, including your lover. By understanding your own desires and actions, you understand why other people do things as they do. It works both ways. You can only understand people as you understand yourself. As you win insight into your own actions, reactions or behavior, the behavior of other people becomes clear.

Many times, you are simply wanting to be FREE from wanting something, or someone. Fact is, we must be able to take or leave people before we can take them beneficially. A compulsive need for companionship or 'confirmation' indicates lack of self command on YOUR part.

And, this means placing yourself at the mercy of others in order to get what you assume you need.

Be FREE. And you'll find other people naturally drawn to you!
